

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A time-temporally subtraction-image generating section performs subtraction between corresponding pixels of original images which are objects of comparison and reading. A registration section matches the anatomically characteristic parts of two or more subtraction images obtained through the subtraction process. A display-format setting section arranges and displays the registered subtraction images on an image display surface.

10